

Nau mai! Welcome to the WESCT April 2022 newsletter. The WESCT Trustees are proud to own The Lines Company (TLC) on behalf of you, the customers, ensuring benefits such as bill savings and jobs for our local community.

News

April 2022

New Director appointments

WESCT has appointed two new Non-Executive Directors to TLC.

Fraser Jonker and Todd Spencer

We welcome Fraser Jonker and Todd Spencer to our team. Fraser has extensive experience with renewable electricity, including electrical engineering, construction, maintenance and asset management, while Todd is a senior commercial lawyer whose experience also spans electricity and infrastructure. William Oliver, chair of WESCT, says the trustees are delighted with the skills and experience Fraser and Todd bring to The Lines Company board.

TLC staff mark major milestones

The early stages of 2022 heralded significant milestones for several TLC staff, with the business acknowledging their decade-plus long service to customers.

Barry Barnet (20 years), Bronwyn Leveridge (16), Dallas Davenport (11), Dion Adams (10), Els Comrie (17), Eric Leineweber (26), Jason Gaukrodger (33), Jared Murrell (22), Jemma Cowie (11), June Macrae (20), Kayla Hemara (13), Nick Clarke (17), Richard Isaacs (10 years), Steve McLennan (10) and Tau Turner (15).

Savings coming your way

Watch out for the TLC discount paid to WESCT Customers, which will show on your invoice from your electricity retailer in May or June.

WESCT is on Facebook!

Follow us to keep up to date with our latest news and see our new awareness video: facebook.com/WaitomoEnergyServicesCustomerTrust.

Downstream Conference

Several Trustees attended the Energy Sector's annual conference online recently. The conference presented a significant focus on decarbonisation.